

Dear graduates,

All of the hours, all of the late nights and early mornings, all of the sacrifices you made over the past few years have led you here. To this day, this stage, this moment. This ceremony represents the culmination of each of the individual decisions you made – day in and day out – to keep reaching for your goals.

But today is more than a closing of a chapter. Today represents continual growth in your chosen craft. Today honors the life-changing insights you've gained by engaging in dialogue with others of differing viewpoints. Today knows that you will be empowered by your confidence, and today knows you are only limited by your wildest dreams. It is because you are here, and because again and again you made the choice to reach higher, and because you know that today is just the beginning.

May today's celebration be not of what's behind you, but of the incredible potential ahead. May today you toast to the challenges you'll face head-on; To the problems you will solve; To the opportunities you'll have to make life better, to change the world.

May you continue to embrace every challenge that comes your way. May your growth never cease. May your journey take you all over the world, and may you always find a way back to USF.

Congratulations, and GO BULLS!

UNIVERSITY OF SOUTH FLORIDA 116TH COMMENCEMENT CONVOCATION

FALL BACCALAUAREATE COMMENCEMENT | FRIDAY, DECEMBER 7 AND SATURDAY, DECEMBER 8, 2018

UNIVERSITY OF SOUTH FLORIDA SYSTEM

Founded in 1956, the University of South Florida is a multicampus system comprising three separately accredited institutions, USF, USF St. Petersburg, and USF Sarasota-Manatee. The USF System has an annual budget of $1.8 billion, an annual economic impact of $4.4 billion and offers 232 degree programs at the undergraduate, graduate, specialist and doctoral levels, including the doctor of medicine. Serving nearly 48,000 students, USF is large and diverse with students from every state and nearly 160 different countries. More than 30 percent are African American, Hispanic, Asian American, Native American and other races and ethnicities.

USF is the doctoral granting, research intensive member of the USF System and it includes the main campus in Tampa, its College of Marine Science in St. Petersburg and USF Health. USF is ranked 25th in the nation for research expenditures, among public U.S. universities and is also one of only 25 public research universities nationwide with very high research activity that is designated as community engaged by the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching.

USF St. Petersburg offers master's level and undergraduate programs in the arts and sciences, business and education within a student-centered environment. The first regional institution in the USF System with independent accreditation, USFSP distinguishes itself by its urban waterfront location in downtown St. Petersburg and its focus on undergraduate research, civic engagement and small classes. Most faculty members hold the highest degree in their field and teach courses from the freshman to graduate level. USFSP retains its separate identity and mission while contributing to and benefiting from the associations, cooperation, and shared resources of a premier national research university.

USF Sarasota-Manatee is the second regional institution in the USF System to earn an independent accreditation. USFSM strives to be a hometown, comprehensive university with ever-increasing national and global impact. The USF Sarasota-Manatee campus is located on U.S. 41 near Sarasota Bay, the Powell Crosley Mansion, the John & Mable Ringling Museum of Art, and the Sarasota-Bradenton Airport. USFSM offers over forty bachelor's degree, master's degree and certificate programs in four colleges: Arts & Sciences, Business, Education, and Hospitality and Technology Leadership. USFSM provides students with individualized attention from nationally and internationally recognized faculty while capitalizing on the resources of a major public research university.

The USF System member institutions span the Tampa Bay region; however, true to their differentiated missions, the member institutions collectively provide educational services across the state of Florida and beyond.

The University of South Florida is accredited by the Commission on Colleges of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools to award degrees at the baccalaureate, master's, specialist and doctoral levels, including the Doctor of Medicine. Events, activities, programs and facilities of the University of South Florida are available to all without regard to race, color, marital status, gender, sexual orientation, religion, national origin, disability, age, Vietnam or disabled veteran status as provided by law and in accordance with the University's respect for personal dignity.

THE SYMBOLS OF LEARNING

Modern academic regalia evolved from the kinds of apparel worn by monks and students in the 11th and 12th centuries to keep warm in the medieval castles and halls in which they studied. Academic life as we know it today began in the Middle Ages — first in the church, then in the guilds. The teaching guild was the Guild of the Master of Arts, and the Bachelor was the apprentice of the Master. Their dress was the outward sign of stature and responsibility. Academic regalia was thus a visible manifestation — in color, pattern and design — that unified those of common discipline and like purpose. In later centuries, to preserve the regalia's dignity and meaning, universities set rules of academic dress. American universities agreed on a definite system in 1895, establishing a code of approved attire. In 1932, the American Council on Education revised this code, which, for the most part, governs the style of academic dress today. The principal features of academic dress are three: the gown, the cap and the hood.

THE GOWN — The gown has become symbolic of the democracy of scholarship, for it completely covers any dress of rank or social standing. The sleeves of the gown indicate the level of the degree held by the wearer. A long, pointed sleeve indicates the bachelor's degree. The master's gown has an oblong sleeve cut in an arc, with a slit at either the upper arm or wrist. The USF doctor's gown has bell-shaped sleeves and three black bars on the sleeve. The doctoral robe also has the seal of the university on the velvet facing.

THE CAP — The freed slave in ancient Rome won the privilege of wearing a cap, and so the academic cap is a sign of the freedom of scholarship and the responsibility and dignity with which scholarship endows the wearer. Old poetry records the cap of scholarship as a square symbolizing the book, although other authorities claim that it is a mortar board, the symbol of the masons, a privileged guild. The color of the tassel on the cap denotes the discipline. The tassels on the caps (mortar boards) worn by the faculty may be black or a color indicating the degree. Those who hold a doctoral degree may wear a gold tassel. It is traditional for degree candidates to wear their tassels on the right and for those holding degrees to wear them on the left. Graduates transfer their tassels to the left after conferring of the degrees by the President.

THE MACE — The USF Mace, used during all Commencement ceremonies, is a ceremonial staff similar to those used by many institutions of higher learning to show the right of academic institutions to grant degrees to graduates. The USF mace is used during all Commencement ceremonies and is carried by the President of the Faculty Senate. Our mace includes a gold pine cone at its top to represent growth and continuity. Eight silver semicircles, which support the pine cone, stand for the eight colleges in existence at USF when the mace was commissioned in 1998. When not in use, today's mace is displayed in the foyer of the President's office. The original university mace is on display in the Alumni Center.

THE MEDALLION — The medallion worn by candidates for the bachelor's degree identify those graduating with honors based upon GPA.

THE SASH — The golden-colored sash is made available to students who are members of university honors societies. The sash is embroidered with the university seal and the student's honors society. International students may choose to wear a special sash honoring their home country. The colors of their sash reflect the colors of their native flags.

THE HOOD — The hoods are lined with the official colors of the institution conferring the degree. They are edged and bound with velvet of the color appropriate for the degree. At USF, the lining of the hood is green with a gold chevron, representing the university's colors.

THE COLORS — In regalia, academic disciplines are noted by color. These colors can be found on undergraduate and masters tassels and on master and doctorate hoods on the velvet edging.

MELANIE SANFORD

HONORARY DOCTOR OF SCIENCE

Dr. Melanie Sanford is a Moses Gomberg Distinguished University professor and an Arthur F. Thurnau Professor of Chemistry at the University of Michigan. She is a nationally recognized scientist who has made outstanding contributions to the fields of organic and inorganic chemistry and has been a strong supporter of women in science.

Sanford's research focuses on the discovery and detailed mechanistic study of new chemical reactions. These include unprecedented transformations of high valent late transition metal complexes, novel catalytic C–H functionalization reactions, new strategies for the fluorination of organic molecules, and the interrogation of decomposition pathways of charged battery materials. This work has applications in the development of new methods for the synthesis of pharmaceuticals and agrochemicals, in the construction of imaging agents for positron emission tomography, and in the design of electroactive materials for grid-scale energy storage.

Sanford has received an impressive amount national and international recognitions, especially at her young age. She has been elected an ACS Fellow, Distinguished University Professor, Member of the National Academy of Sciences, and Fellow of American Academy of Arts and Sciences. Sanford's academic achievement is demonstrated by more than 160 journal articles, seven book chapters, and five patents (granted and pending). Her publications have received over 20,000 citations. Her scientific impact parallels those who have been in the field much longer.

Sanford received her Bachelor's degree from Yale University and her Ph.D. from the California Institute of Technology.

MAYOR BOB BUCKHORN PRESIDENT'S FELLOW MEDALLION

Bob Buckhorn was sworn in as the 58th mayor of Tampa, the nation's 53th largest city, on April 1, 2011, and was reelected in 2015 with more than 95 percent of the vote. Buckhorn has been an ardent supporter of the University of South Florida, recognizing the university's role in supporting economic vitality for the region.

During his first term, Mayor Buckhorn focused on the city and region's economic leadership, stability, and most importantly, business opportunity. Today, local government is smarter, urban development is centered on the riverfront, and Tampa is recognized nationally as the competitive city it is.

Mayor Buckhorn set a tone of inclusiveness in Tampa as the City acted as a pioneer for equality. He has also made it a priority to focus on public safety, strong neighborhoods and economic growth while working diligently to improve the overall quality of life in our community. A $3 billion, 40-acre development project in the Channel District is now under way that will include a new hotel, office tower, retail, restaurants and entertainment venues. The new district will be WELL Certified, the world's first health and wellness-focused city district that will include the University of South Florida's Morsani College of Medicine that is relocating to downtown Tampa. This will create an environment where students and medical professionals will have immediate access to Tampa General Hospital and the Center for Advanced Medical Learning and Simulation.

As mayor, Buckhorn serves on several boards and governing authorities including the Hillsborough County Aviation Authority, the Tampa Hillsborough Expressway Authority, the Tampa Bay Area Regional Transit Authority, and the Tampa Port Authority. From 2011- 2012, he was also a fellow for the Urban Land Institute (ULI) Daniel Rose Center for Public Leadership in Land Use.

Previously, Buckhorn served as the Special Assistant to former Tampa Mayor Sandra Freedman, and was elected Tampa City Council. In 2003, Buckhorn joined the Dewey Square Group, a nationally known public affairs company, until he opened Buckhorn Partners, a public affairs firm based in Tampa, in 2007.

Buckhorn graduated from Penn State University. He is married to USF Health Dr. Catherine Lynch Buckhorn, and they have two daughters, Grace and Colleen.

DYANN WIRTH PRESIDENT'S GLOBAL LEADERSHIP AWARD

Dr. Dyann Wirth is an American immunologist and one of the world's leading malariologists. She currently serves as the Richard Pearson Strong Professor of Infectious Diseases at Harvard T.H. Chan School of Public Health and helps lead the collaborative research efforts of the Harvard Malaria Initiative (HMI).

Wirth's research centers on understanding the basic molecular mechanisms that exist in protozoan parasites, which are major causes of diseases in developing countries throughout the world. The long-term goal of her work is to discover and apply parasite-specific interventions to help address the spread of these diseases. Her contributions have acclaimed recognition from honorable subject experts around the world.

The multidisciplinary Wirth laboratory blends the scientific environments of the Harvard Chan, Broad Institute, and research institutions worldwide to create a unique malaria research and training network that brings together scientists and clinicians in fields such as molecular biology, genetics, genomics, epidemiology, infectious diseases and pathology. The group also leverages tools of the human genomic project to better understand the fundamental biology of the malaria parasite, evolution, mechanisms, and insecticide resistance.

The group, led by Wirth, seeks to determine both the number and identity of genes expressed by the parasite in response to drug treatment and to evaluate the role of these genes for parasite survival. Current findings have made significant contributions to advancing our understanding of malaria vaccine efficacy with long-term R&D goals to discover and apply preventive and therapeutic interventions against malaria infection. The group's research activities are made possible through collaborative research partnerships with investigators, universities, and clinical centers in Africa, Asia, and the Americas.

Wirth earned her Bachelor's degree from the University of Wisconsin, and a Doctor of Philosophy from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

KING O'NEAL SCHOLARS

A tradition since 1988, the King O'Neal Scholars are recognized each semester by the Alumni Association in honor of charter graduates Lucas King and Evelyn O'Neal. Graduating seniors with the highest overall grade point average, 4.0, are identified as King O'Neal Scholars candidates during commencement ceremonies. The recipients of the King O'Neal also receive a certificate of accomplishment and a gold medallion of the university seal.

SHAHRIAR “SHAWN” ZAMANI OUTSTANDING GRADUATE

The Outstanding Graduate Award, given each semester by the USF Alumni Association, recognizes a graduating senior who embodies leadership, school spirit, community service, character and scholarship. The Fall 2018 award goes to Shahriar “Shawn” Zamani, who graduates today with a Bachelor of Science degree from the College of Public Health.

As an immigrant from Iran, Zamani worked diligently at Hillsborough Community College as a Jack Kent Cooke Scholar to eventually transfer to the University of South Florida. Zamani was inspired by his mother who built shelter to protect children during the height of the Iran-Iraq war and has followed in her footsteps to give back to the community through his public health work.

Academically Zamani has excelled, maintaining an almost perfect GPA and participating as part of the Honors College. During his time at USF, Zamani has served in several student organizations such as the Undergraduate Public Health Student Organization, the Executive Student Leadership Board, and the BRIDGE clinic. His contributions include opening a counseling service for USF Health students and providing smoking cessation programs and tax filing services to low socioeconomic individuals. Zamani’s work on the tobacco-free program led to an internship at the National Cancer Institute, a program usually reserved for graduate students. Zamani was also selected to the AMGEN Scholar program where his work on epidemiological aspects of dietary association in gastrointestinal cancer led to a first author publication.

Mentors who know Zamani describe him as an extraordinary person with an infectious positive attitude who is incredibly grounded, methodical and motivated. He is a natural leader which has been shown by his election to important leadership positions at USF by faculty and fellow students. Zamani was just announced as a Marshall Scholarship finalist which is an incredibly prestigious honor that would allow him to continue his education at the University of Cambridge if selected. Zamani’s ultimate goal is to earn a Ph.D. in epidemiology and continue as a champion for public health initiatives.
