PROFESSIONAL PREPARATION

- 1995 Ph.D. Special Education; Minor-Educational Leadership
 University of Florida
 Gainesville, FL
- 1991 M.Ed. Special Education-Learning Disabilities
 University of Florida
 Gainesville, FL
- 1983-1984 Doctoral Program in Community Psychology (the university decided to suspend the program during my first year; my coursework reflects the hours equivalent to a Master's Degree in Psychology-General)
 University of Tennessee
 Knoxville, TN
- 1983 B.A. Psychology (cum laude)
 Furman University
 Greenville, SC

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

- 2008-present Professor, Special Education, College of Education, University of South Florida
- 2016-2018 Assistant Dean, Educator Preparation and Partnerships
- 2016-2018 David C. Anchin Endowed Chair of Education Innovation and Director of the David C. Anchin Center
- 2018-present Member of the Learning Disabilities Association of America Professional Advisory Board
- 2015-2016 Co-Coordinator for Exceptional Student Education Undergraduate Program, Department of Teaching and Learning, College of Education, University of South Florida
- 2014-2015 Area Coordinator for Special Education Programs
- 2014-2015 Doctoral Program Coordinator – Special Education, Department of Teaching and Learning, College of Education, University of South Florida
- 2007-2014 Member, National Advisory Council for the RTI Action Network, National Council for

Learning Disabilities (NCLD)

- 2011 Co-Doctoral Program Coordinator, Department of Special Education, College of Education, University of South Florida
- 2001- present Credentialed Graduate Faculty, College of Education, University of South Florida
- 2001-2007 Associate Professor, Undergraduate Coordinator, Department of Special Education, College of Education, University of South Florida
- 2000-2001 Associate Professor, Special Education, School of Education, College of Education & Psychology, James Madison University
- 1996-2001 Graduate Faculty, Assistant Professor of Special Education, School of Education, College of Education & Psychology, James Madison University
- 1995-2000 Assistant Professor of Special Education, School of Education, College of Education & Psychology, James Madison University
- 1995-1997 Clinical Supervisor, Human Development Center, College of Education & Psychology, James Madison University
- 1993-1995 Instructor, Special Education Department, College of Education, University of Florida
- 1994-1995 Research Assistant, Multidisciplinary Diagnostic and Training Program, Department of Special Education/Department of Pediatric Neurology - Shands Teaching Hospital, University of Florida. Math Assessment and teacher training for intervention with students at risk of academic failure.
- 1993-1995 Educational Consultant, Multidisciplinary Diagnostic and Training Program, Department of Special Education/Department of Pediatric Neurology - Shands Teaching Hospital, University of Florida. Conducted numerous workshops for middle school students/teachers on study skills and learning strategies.
- 1994-1995 Editorial Assistant, Teacher Education in Special Education (TESE), journal for the Teacher Education Division of the Council for Exceptional Children. Special Education Department, University of Florida
- 1994-1995 Member, University of Florida Institutional Review Board, University of Florida.

- 1985-1987 Teacher, Resource Room for Students with Learning Disabilities & Emotional/Behavior Disorders, Osceola Middle School, Ocala, FL

- 1984 Substitute Teacher (including serving as a full-time substitute for six weeks in a high school classroom for students with Severe Emotional Disturbance), Marion County School District, Ocala, FL.
- 1983-1984 Graduate Research Assistant, Department of Psychology, University of Tennessee, Knoxville, TN

HONORS & AWARDS

- 2019 Exemplary Professional Development School Achievement Award, National Association of Professional Development Schools ((part of a collaborative team of school-university partners)
- 2018 Council of Great City Schools Shirley Schwartz Urban Education Impact Award (part of a collaborative team of school-university partners)
- 2018 Florida Campus Compact Community Partnership Award (part of a collaborative team of school-university partners)
- 2018 Partners in Excellence Award – USF College of Education Honor’s Program - SCATTER
- 2017 USF Office of Community Engagement – Community Engaged Faculty Recognition
- 2017 Learning Disabilities Association of America Sam Kirk Educator of the Year
- 2016 Florida Learning Disabilities Association Nominee for Learning Disabilities Association of America Sam Kirk Educator of the Year Award
- 2013 National Association of Professional Development Schools Spirit Award (the lead faculty members for the ESE undergraduate program were presented this annual award for exemplary university-school partnership work in teacher education)
- 2010 Selected iTeach Fellow for College of Education, University of South Florida
- 2006 University of South Florida Outstanding Undergraduate Teaching Award
- 2006 Outstanding Undergraduate Teaching Award Nominee- Department of Special Education, College of Education, Department of Special Education
- 2003 Celebrate Literacy Award – Hillsborough County (FL) International Reading Association.
- 2002 Governor’s Innovation in Technology Silver Award (MathVIDS website)
- 2000 Madison Scholar, College of Education and Psychology, James Madison University – presented annually to one faculty member in the College in recognition of distinguished scholarship.
- 2000 Madison Scholar Nominee for the School of Education, James Madison University
- 2000 Who’s Who Among America’s Teachers
- 1999 Phi Delta Kappan
- 1998 James Madison University International Practicum Program Awardee. Selected through a peer-review process to direct and supervise international practicum course in Rome, Italy for pre-service teachers in special education, middle education, early childhood education and secondary education. College of Education and Psychology, James Madison University.
- 1997 Mosier Fellowship, College of Education and Psychology, James Madison University. Awarded annually for distinguished research/scholarship in the College. The fellowship supports a current research/scholarship project.
- 1996 Appointed to Graduate Faculty, James Madison University
- 1993 Doctoral Leadership Award, Department of Special Education, University of Florida
- 1991 Crown Region Teacher of the Year (encompassing 17 counties), One of Five State Finalists for Florida Teacher of the Year
- 1991 District Teacher of the Year, Marion County School District, Florida
- 1991 Golden Apple Academy, recognition for outstanding teaching - awarded to five teachers in the district each year, Marion County Schools Foundation, Florida. I was recognized as the Golden Apple Award winner among the four other teachers selected for the Golden Apple Academy

- during this year.
- 1991 Outstanding Young Educator of the Year (State of Florida)
- 1991 J.C. Penney Golden Rule Award, 1st Runner-Up-Administrative Category Volunteer Award, Marion County, FL.

This website was developed to accompany the revised MathVIDS website (MathVIDS 2). The purpose of this site is to provide groups of preservice and/or inservice educators an approach to professional development through the MathVIDS website that emphasizes collaborative learning and an online vehicle for communicating and sharing ideas about what they are learning among individuals in their "learning community."

Allsopp, D.H., Kyger, M., Ingram, R., and Lovin, L. (2006). MathVIDS2. Virginia Department of Education. <http://coe.jmu.edu/mathvids2>

MathVIDS2 represents a significant revision to the original MathVIDS website published in 2001. Additional content and online video has been included and existing content has been updated. Substantial reorganization of the website's structure and design also was completed.

Curricula Developed

Allsopp, D.H. Developing Mathematics Literacy Initiative (DML-I). The DML-I is an intervention process for students in need of intensive mathematics support for number, operations, and algebraic thinking. The DML-I integrates practices from the special education and mathematics education research literature. Research on the DML-I has already been conducted with preservice teacher candidates and teachers/students in a K-2 setting. Future activities include a formative research design study with a teacher and elementary students and a single case study in 2014.

Allsopp, D.H. The Building Algebra Skills Series: Effective Teaching Strategies for Students Experiencing Difficulty Learning Pre-Algebra and Beginning Algebra Skills (2001). A curriculum developed to assist middle & secondary level teachers to teach pre-algebra and beginning algebra skills to students with learning problems. Includes 4 units that incorporate effective math instructional approaches for students with learning problems: Unit 1- Evaluating Expressions for Given Values of Variables and Writing Algebraic Expressions for Word Statements; Unit 2 - Order of Operations and Properties of Rational Numbers; Unit 3 - Absolute

Value and Integers; Unit 4 - Solving One-Variable Algebra Equations and One-Variable Algebra Equation Word Problems.

Competition. Funded - $70,952. My duties include evaluating instructional strategies and teaching plans that will serve as videotaping guides. Video clips of teachers implementing these instructional strategies will be incorporated into a website designed as an instructional development tool for teachers.

Ingram, R. (2000). Teaching Excellence On-line: Web-based Video Models for Implementing NCATE 2000, NETS, and Virginia Education Teacher Standards. PT3, US Department of Education - $500,000. My duties include assisting project director and principal investigators to develop video scripts and incorporate video models of early grades teachers implementing effective technology instructional strategies into a website designed as a teacher instructional development tool.

State Level Partnership/Professional Development

Pennsylvania (2014-2016)

I worked with the Pennsylvania Technical Training and Assistance Network (PaTTAN), Pennsylvania Department of Education, to develop guidelines for the implementation of mathematics Multi-tiered Systems of Support/Response to Intervention (MTSS/RtI), develop professional development tools/resources/delivery, and to pilot the PD and related resources during 2014-2015 and 2015-2016. My primary role was to provide expertise related to effective instructional practice within mathematics RtI and lead the work of the instructional practice team. I worked closely with the curriculum and assessment teams to ensure that all materials/resources and PD were well aligned among these three areas. I also provided face-to-face PD to school teams at three points during the 2015-2016 school year as part of the pilot project. Evaluation data from the project will be utilized to revise and enhance the PD and related materials/resources.

Montana (2012-2014)

I worked with the Department of Education in Montana to develop and implement professional development across the state to school teams related to effective mathematics instruction within a Response to Intervention model. This work span two years and consisted of working with a state level team composed of building administrators, teachers, curriculum specialists, and RtI specialists to develop professional development materials/resources and provide professional development allowing local school teams to problem solve and plan for improving mathematics instruction within RtI based on their individual school contexts and needs.

Iowa (2012-2014)

I worked with two state regional professional development consortia in Iowa to support their efforts to improve mathematics instruction within a Response to Intervention (RtI) model. My work included both face-to-face consultation and a virtual professional learning communities (PLC) book study with individuals in state level professional development positions. The PLC book study revolved around a book for which I am lead author, Teaching Mathematics Meaningfully: Solutions for Reaching Struggling Learners (Brookes Publishing Co.).
