Learn Lead Inspire Transform

Introducing the Online Master of Education
Online Teaching and Learning

The University of South Florida Sarasota Manatee is now offering the Master’s in Education degree with a concentration in Online Teaching and Learning as a 100% online degree designed to prepare individuals for online instructional roles.

Those who wish to teach online will explore current teaching and learning principles, best practices, and the use of social media and web tools that enhance effective online instruction. Courses are taught from a student’s perspective and will include specific competencies and quality measures that ensure the successful mastery of online instruction.

As an additional option to the degree program, students can earn a certificate in Online Teaching and Learning (16 credits) in as few as three semesters. This program is 100% online to provide maximum schedule flexibility for professionals juggling the demands of their busy lifestyles.

Program At-a-Glance

- 100% Online flexibility—study virtually anytime!
- Courses designed and taught by qualified faculty
- Relevant, real-world knowledge in a growing, innovative field
- Collaborative, engaging discussions with an online community of peers

To get started, use the online application gateway on our website or speak with a graduate admission advisor at 941-359-4330. For further questions, you may also contact the program director, Dr. Dina Osborn (dina1@sar.usf.edu).