Attendance: first-day attendance is required not later than Friday, August 29 and is verified by completing #1 and #2

1. Register (returning users) or enroll (1st time users) at www.myspanishlab.com (MSL). (No registration = no attendance)

2. Submit the Contract & data form you received in Canvas/Assignments asap. Make sure you read the syllabus. This is our contract and by staying in the course you are agreeing to the rules and procedures posted in it.

Overall view of Canvas / Modules and MySpanishLab (Anda! E-Text)

In Canvas / Modules you will find general information and handouts. In Canvas / Assignments you will find Writing (10%) and Oral Presentation (Entrevistas 20%) activities.

- Canvas assignments will be sent to you with a one week notice of due dates.
- The Canvas system will not accept any Assignment submitted after the due date and will be graded as 0%.
- MSL (Anda e-Text) online assignments (30%) appear in your MSL Calendar and are due at midnight of the date assigned. After the due date the clock turns RED. You may still submit the assignment for legitimate reasons (emergencies) but the grade will not calculate in the MSL Grade Book until I accept it.

My Spanish Lab (MSL) is the Publisher’s online course management systems for Anda! e-Text Curso Elemental 2nd ed.. Student Activities Manual (SAM), Textbook (Txt) and other activities are assigned and listed in “Today’s View” tab of My Language Lab Calendar. The activities represent extensive grammar-driven practice that will assist the student in internalizing the language. You have 3 attempts for SAM activities. TXT & SAM activities are graded and averaged as part of the overall grade. Homework will be completed on the dates that appear in the calendar in My Spanish Lab. Other assignment might be graded differently; depending on the activity. The requirements for successful completion of this course involve a considerable amount of reading and completion of the online activities followed by the submission of tests and/or exams. This requires self-motivation without procrastination, so it is important to stay on task and avoid getting behind schedule. These MSL assignments make up 30% of your final grade.

Things to remember:

1) This is not a self-pace course. Click on your “Today’s View” tab in MSL every day and view the whole month calendar. Then click on the days where Clock icons appear so you know what you are responsible for that week and prepare accordingly. Do not wait until the due date, you will never finish on time. Complete a few MSL assignments each day.

2) You need to have a reliable computer. You need to have specific programs and software on your own computer and before any exam or test you need to complete the Browser tune up for MSL. If you have computer issues go to campus with your laptop and visit “Information Commons” or contact the Tech Issues staff. (see below)

3) You need a microphone and a webcam to record assignments and tests.

4) Oral presentations and “entrevistas” (interviews) will be recorded by you in Canvas using the imbedded Panopto software. You need to do this with Firefox only in Canvas. How to use Instructions will come later in the first week of the course.
5) Reading announcements, emails, notes and instructions are crucial if you want to succeed in the course. Make sure you read carefully all instructions before doing your activities. CHECK your email frequently. You are responsible for any announcement posted here at any time.

6) Assignments have to be done in Spanish unless otherwise instructed. The use of vocabulary and grammar not taught in the e-Book course are not acceptable.

7) Your work for the week is posted on MySpanishLab in the calendar and in Canvas. MSL homework assignments are 30% of your grade. MSL assignments can be done up to 3 times. Your best grade for each assignment will post in the MSL gradebook.

8) If you are not yet familiar with Canvas be sure to visit these sites for instructions.
   • Please visit: https://usflearn.instructure.com or log into http://my.usf.edu and click on the Canvas tab to access materials for this course.
   • Go to this link for Canvas instructions.

Course Objectives

To develop Spanish linguistic proficiency through the following communicative objectives as summarized in the first two pages of each “capítulo” (chapter)

Beginning Spanish I covered these themes and are reviewed in Capítulo Preliminar B (PB: review chapter) of Level II.
   • Greetings, cognates, telling time, numbers, days, months, and seasons, weather, likes & dislikes
   • Describe your family; give details about yourself, others, places and things.
   • Share information about courses and majors, describe places and people, create and answer questions, articulate emotions and states of being, offer opinions, craft a personal description
   • Describe homes, share info about household chores, create an ad.,
   • Identify places in and around town, relate common obligation and activities, share where you are going, talk about positive and negative concepts, describe shopping and other daily activities

Course Requirements
You should expect to spend an average of 10-20 hours a week completing your homework, so plan ahead. Doing it the night before will prove to be counterproductive and very difficult to finish.

On-line Chapter Tests/Quizzes
Practice tests will be assigned before each posttest so you can see and correct your mistakes. The lowest grade posttest will be dropped from the final average of all posttests. These are 10% of your final grade.

In order to periodically assess your learning of the material, there will be an on-line quiz at the end of each chapter, administered through MySpanishLab. You will take a total of 6 tests. These tests will be scheduled to be completed within a certain time period following the completion of each chapter’s material (see Calendar below for details). While you will be allowed to use your textbook and notes to help you complete the tests, the tests are timed (90 minutes) so that it is in your best interest to work on your own. The tests are designed to be able to be completed successfully if you have been diligent about doing your MySpanishLab activities well-prepared students will not need to use valuable time consulting additional resources. The tests will appear on the calendar when they are available and you will receive notification. If there are instructor-graded activities on the test, your instructor will be notified and when s/he has graded that section your grade on the test will appear in the Gradebook.

Exams
Your mid-term grade will be the average of all assignments up through Capítulo 8. The final exam will be given during the Final Week of the semester. The goal of the exam is to assess your ability to assimilate what you have learned about Spanish grammar, vocabulary, language, and culture. You are also expected to critically respond to and analyze the topics covered. These are also Canvas Assignments for writing activities and oral presentation (Entrevista) activities.

Late Assignments
No late assignments or tests / exams are accepted without notifying me asap. Note that MySpanishLab (MSL) automatically dates and time stamps your assignments and will not accept late assignments without my acceptance. Your MSL submission will not be graded until I “accept” it. MSL updates grades every 2 hrs.

Dates for all tests, oral presentation (Entrevistas) are clearly indicated in the Syllabus and in the Canvas/Assignments section. This is a tentative calendar. Each test focuses on one Capítulo (chapter) but requires knowledge of vocabulary and information from previous chapters.
